THERE ARE TWO GAMES:

1. SEVEN DAYS FOR A MOVIE

The game tests the ability to produce a short film on digital video in seven days, from the plot, to the final cut for the first public screening.

Applicants must be directors or authors and submit one previous work to the festival's Director in the ways and modalities explained below. Authors who have already participated in previous editions of the MFF must submit works produced after January 1st 2013. Authors might choose or be asked by the Festival Management to submit additional works.

The registration form and a copy of the film must be sent by July 3rd 2015 to:

IMMAGINA, ASSOCIAZIONE CULTURALE
c/o SELVA- OLIVERO
STRADA BERTEU 5

The postmark date shall be proof of dispatch. Selected authors will be contacted by July 10th 2015.

Selected authors will benefit of a computer with editing software, each identical to the other (Apple computer with editing software Final Cut Pro). Editing must be done and completed at Casa Immagina (festival headquarter), at the editing station assigned to each troupe on the first day of festival.

Immagina provides half board accommodation (bed and dinner) for up to 5 people in the crew from August 22nd to August 29th 2015. Dinner on August 29th is not included. Immagina also offers logistical support for location scouting and helps to find extras. Immagina is not responsible for the casting of actors or technical professionals (editor, sound engineer, cinematographer, etc.), but authors can request to access an online database with professionals' CV and contacts. Authors are responsible for the remaining production expenses.

The competition starts 22nd August 2015 at 11.00 am.

The final master file must be handled to MFF staff within Saturday, August 29th, 2015, 11am. Each movie will be screened 4 times during the same day, for the jury and the public.

Casalborgone Municipality and Immagina acquire all rights to use the short films in order to promote the region and the activities of the association.

Selected authors will also receive an additional document with specific rules on how to play during the Cinema Game.
